Supplementary Figure 1 Decision curve analysis of the model.

The x-axis indicates the threshold probability, which is a level of certainty above which the patient or physician would choose to intervene. The y-axis indicates the net benefit. The net benefit is calculated as the true positive rate – (false positive rate x weighting factor).