COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Interesting article on the scientific and practical level. Text well wrote and easily comprehensible, nevertheless some modifications and corrections will be desirable to reconsider final work: mini review interesting concerning the use of recombinant human bone morphogenetic protein-2: - Many recent papers has been published but references are old! - the authors reports an overview of advantages and complications of using recombinant human bone morphogenetic protein-2 in spine surgery and also in different others surgery (Maxillofacial and orthopedics)(Title: spine surgery only)
