TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

May 10, 2024

Dear Sir or Madam,

Paper title: "Impact of hyperthermic intraperitoneal chemotherapy on gastric cancer survival: Peritoneal metastasis and cytology perspectives"

Authors: Asada Methasate, Thammawat Parakonthun, Thita Intralawan, Chawisa Nampoolsuksan, Jirawat Swangsri

This letter confirms that, on May 10, 2024, I completed the linguistic editing of revisions that had been made to the above paper.

Specifically, I checked the usage and syntax of the language and the paper's flow, clarity, tone, grammar, spelling, and consistency. Based on that, I recommended highly detailed wording changes to the authors. The changes comply with the standard rules and typical usage patterns of American English.

I am a native English speaker contracted by Mahidol University, Thailand, to edit scientific papers. I am qualified as an official examiner for the International English Language Testing System (University of Cambridge) and as an Academic English language teacher (The Oxford, Cambridge, and RSA Examinations Board).

Sincerely,

David Park
