Abdominosacral resection for locally recurring rectal cancer

Filiberto Belli, Alessandro Gronchi, Carlo Corbellini, Massimo Milione, Ermanno Leo

Abstract

Background

Local relapses of rectal cancer remain one of the most complex and challenging aspects of surgical oncology of the last years. Recently, a consistent improvements has been achieved with the introduction of sacral resection for the patients with posterior pelvic extension of the recurrent tumor. However, abdominosacral resection is a complex surgical procedure
