Biostatistics Review Certificate

World Journal of Clinical Oncology

This is to certify that

I have completed the review of the biostatistical components for the manuscript entitled: Obesity and colorectal cancer risk: A systematic review and meta-analysis submitted to the World Journal of Clinical Oncology.

We are sorry that the statistical review of the study was not performed by a biomedical statistician. However, all authors thoroughly reviewed the details of statistical methods of the study.

The review was conducted in accordance with the journal's peer-review guidelines, ensuring accuracy, validity, and clarity of the statistical analyses and interpretations presented in the manuscript.
