

Supplementary Figure 1 Quality inspection of the microarray data. A signal histogram (A) relative signal box plot (B) correlation analysis (C) and principal component analysis (D) showed that the gene expression trends of samples in the same group were similar and that the differences between groups were significant, which met the criteria for further analysis.