SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Improve on the abstract. It's too short. Do list the potential materials that can be used to make the shields. Please attach the experimental results to justify the effectiveness of the shield. Also, attach a link to a short video demonstrating its use. Has the shield been satisfied by the dental department to be effective and be adopted for global use?

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS
1- Did the authors compare the load of produced droplets, airborne or aerosols with and without this shield? (For example with natural harmless color).
2- Can this shield be used solely for air water syringe tip or it can be used for another dental equipment like drill?
