Dear author,

Thank you for a nice work done on the ovarian teratoma related anti-NMDAR encephalitis. The method and the results described are relevant and needed for a detailed review of the issue. My concerns are that article is little lengthy and can be shorted. Typically the introduction should be limited to 300-350 words describing the main problem and the hypothesis or main area of review to be done. The discussion is also a bit lengthy and can be shortened. A consort flow diagram of search strategies, article searched, excluded and reason of exclusion should be mentioned. Please mention the full form of all abbreviation in the main manuscript when they appear first.
